He was living in Pitt Co. NC., when his father William died in 1766. While living in Pitt Co. William practicing a twentieth century lifestyle. He had a wife and a common law spouse, both of whom were bearing him children. They were sisters, Mary and Anna Moye

When the 1766 deed was executed, tranferring land that he had inherited from his father, it was in his name and that of his wife, Mary. Yet by this time he had fathered two children by Anna, his wife's sister and his common law spouse.

William moved to Craven Co. about 1774 and settled near old Fort Barnwell. When he sold land that year Anna was still with him and witnessed the land transaction. She signed her name as Anna Moye

About ten years later 1784 something happened to the three individuals and William and Anna left Maryland and parted ways. William settled on the East side of the Ogeechee River in Effingham Co. and was later granted 500 acres of land. A family problem arose on the East side and caused the Denmarks to settled on the West side of the Ogeechee in Bulloch Co. The Georgia Gazette states that a man named Denmark may have shot and killed a young man named Levi Dykes.

William B. Denmark Sr., son of Francis is the 3rd generation of Denmarks in Virginia. He was born 1708 in VA., and died 1766 in North Carolina.

William Denmark moved from Virginia to Hyde County, North Carolina. It appears that William married in North Carolina to Mourning (unknown). Only two children are known born to William and Mourning.

William was a blacksmith by trade and by 1751 he was old and very much afflicted with illness he was exempted from public duties. He died in 1766 and the lands in Hyde Co. fell to his son, William then living in Pitt Co., near his sister and family.

Children of William and Morning are:

1. Abigail Denmark, born 1731 Hyde County, North Carolina, married William Mill Travis 11.
2. William B. Denmark
William Denmark was an educated man as he could write his own name, even abbreviated "William" for "Wm". He became a town's blacksmith. When his son William Batchelor was born he was the blacksmith in the town of Woodstock, located in Hyde County, North Carolina. He died in 1751.

Mourning Mittom Moye and William B. Denmark had the following child:

124. i. William Batchelot Denmark, son of William B. Denmark and Mourning Mittom Moye was born in 1735 in Belhaven, Beauford County, NC. He died in 1821 in Warren, Georgia, USA. He married Mary Moye. She was born in 1745 in Beaufort, Pitt, North Carolina, USA. She died in 1793 in Duplin, North Carolina, USA. He married Anna Moye, daughter of John Moye and Anna in Warren County, GA. Notes for John Wise:
1. John Wise RS-SC Militia (David Wyse, George Wyse, Alexander Wyse) was born about June 1721 in Arbuthnott, Kincardineshire, Scotland, and was christened at the Arbuthnott Parish Church on 24 July 1721. He was the son of DAVID WYSE (????-????) and his wife ??? (name unknown), of Arbuthnott, Kincardineshire, Scotland. He died in Sep 1780, as an English Prisoner-of-War on the old English Prison Ship "Forbay" anchored in Charles Towne Harbor, English Province of South Carolina. He was last known to be living on Horse Creek, near Wise Mill, and "on the Charles Towne Road," in southeast Edgefield District, English Province of South Carolina. He married 1740 MARGARET TAIT (b. c1722) in Arbuthnott Parish Church, Kincardineshire, Scotland. She was the daughter of William Tait and his wife Margaret Colley, of Maryculter, Kincardineshire, Scotland. Margaret was also the paternal granddaughter of John Tait and Elizabeth Edward, probably also from Kincardineshire, Scotland. His wife Margaret died at their Horse Creek Plantation, Edgefield County, English Province of South Carolina. John, his wife, and his son William (there may have been a son named John Jr. too) migrated circa 1745-1750 from Scotland, probably to and through the English Province of North Carolina, and traveled overland into the Scot Pee Dee River Settlement area, then in Prince Fredrick's Parish [part now in Marion County], English Province of South Carolina. We have recently had three major findings: (1) This JOHN WISE (1721-1780) and his son WILLIAM WISE (1744-1816) were, in fact, both born in Kincardineshire, Scotland; (2) that this JOHN WISE's father was DAVID WISE, probably also from Kincardineshire, Scotland; and (3) that JOHN WISE (1721-1780) was, in fact, arrested in 1780 by the English Army for aiding and comforting local rebels (South Carolina Militia soldiers) during the American Revolutionary War. A documented officer's record was found that confirms that JOHN WISE, RS-SC Militia was arrested, imprisoned, and died aboard an English prison ship in Charleston Harbor that same year. The name of the English Prison Ship in Charleston Harbor during this time frame has been identified as the "Forbay." Will provide more details as they become known. He was living in Pitt Co. NC., when his father William died in 1766. While living in Pitt Co. William practicing a twentieth century lifestyle. He had a wife and a common law spouse, both of whom were bearing him children. They were sisters, Mary and Anna Moye

About ten years later 1784 something happened to the three individuals and William and Anna left Mary and parted ways. William settled on the East side of the Ogeechee River in Effingham Co. and was later granted 500 acres of land. A family problem arose on the East side and caused the Denmarks to settled on the West side of the Ogeechee in Bulloch Co. Notes for John Nicholas Copeland:
Notes for John Nicholas Copeland: from Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy: Virginia [p.21] CHUCKATUCK MONTHLY MEETING (also called Nansemond Monthly Meeting) In the latter part of 1658 John Copeland was in England and in 1661 we hear of his presence in London and in 1667 he was married, for the first time. The record of his marriage describes him as being from "Lockington, North Cave, in the county of York. He married again in 1677 (presumably in England) after the death of his first wife in 1675. Ten years later (1687) he is again in America, as a letter to George Fox mentions that he is in Virginia. His signature appears many times in the Chuckatuck record between 1679-96. In 1691 he entered for the third time into the state of matrimony and, as has been seen, Story lodged in his house at Chuckatuck in 1698. His residence seems to have been a frequent meeting place for the Friends of the Chuckatuck area. Bowden gives the date of his death as the ninth of the first month 1718 and says he was buried at North Cave, England. In connection with John Copeland a news item of June 1940 becomes most interesting: "Jamestown, Virginia - Possibly the oldest example of American pewter in existence was excavated recently during archeological work at Jamestown Island. It consists of the fragment of a spoon by Joseph Copeland. It is dated Chuckatuck 1675". This Joseph Copeland was probably a relative of John Copeland, according to Boddie the Isle of Wight historian, and inherited the estate of Major Taberer of that County. It should be possible to show that all the Copelands of Virginia Quaker tradition are descendants or relatives of this most unusual man - John Copeland. He left his property to his cousin Isaac Collier, Jun., and to Mary and Anne Lockey, daughters of his nephew Edward Lockey, deceased. If Isaac Collier, Jun., should die without issue, his share was to go to Francis Carter, the son of William Carter, and if Francis be dead or unheard of, then to Judith Lockey, sister of Mary and Anne. In 1671 Isaac Collier, Jun., being dead, and said Carter not turning up, the general court adjudged Isaac's share to Henry Cary, who had married Judith Lockey, excepting the land which which was adjudged "to the brother of said Isaac Collier". Mr. John Myhill married Mary Lockey, and was ordered December 7, 1668, to pay 310 lbs. of tobacco to Dr. Francis Haddon for physic and attendance ad- ministered to Mary's uncle, Mr. Edward Lockey. - York County Records.

Notes for John Copeland:

4. John COPELAND was christened on 24 Feb 1611/12 in St. Mary's Church in Dolphinholm, England. He was born in 1612 in Dolphinholm, England. He emigrated in 1635 from to Chuckatuck, Isle of Wight. He died in 1682 in Isle of Wight Co., Va. He was in Quaker. John Copeland was born on 24 Feb 1612 in Dolphin Leigh, Dolphinholm, England. He was christened on 24 Feb 1612 in St. Mary's Church, Lancaster, Lancashire, England. He died in 1682 in Isle of Wight Co., VA. The manuscript continues with "John was the first of the name in Virginia. The Copelands were ardent quakers. In "Early Quaker Records in Virginia" by Miles White, Jr., the Copelands are constant throughout in their attendance at weddings and meetings of the Friends. The following records are contained therein: Elizabeth Copeland, Joseph Copeland, John Copeland, Mary Copeland and James Copeland, Junior were witnesses at weddings in 1687, 1696. 1699. and 1723/4. It should also be noted that the Taberers were among the Friends and John Copeland's son, Married Elizabeth Taberer whose birth is recorded in this history 'Elizabeth Tabberer, daughter of the aforesaid Margrett which she bare to Thomas Tabberer was borne the last of the 10th month 1663.'

Possibly a brother of Lawrence Copeland, who settled at Braintree, Massachusetts, in 1630. From the Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy, Vol VI-Virginia: page 22 " Annual meeting in 1680 was in John Copeland's house in Chuckatuck, (Virginia)" page 28 1680, 8, 7-John a meeting was held in his house in Chuckatuck., 1688, 3, 29. John a meeting was held in his house. (JP NOTE: Since one John Copeland lived 1616-1682 and his son lived 1652-about 1712 I have listed this section on both more sheets as the book does not distinguish which John it was speaking about. If the manuscript is speaking of John's son that would help prove that he either had two sons John and Nicholas, or one son that was John Nicholas or Nicholas John since different genealogist disagree as to this sons name.) Page 39: " among these earliest Quaker families not all of whom had been puritans, are found the names of Goodwin, Bennett, Hutchens, Jordan, Draper, Copeland, Devion, Johnson, Jones, Murrey, Bressie, Chapman, Boddy (Boddie), Outland, Howard, Wiggs, Exum, Barnes, West, Lawrence, Took, Taberer, Newman, Bufkin (Buskin), Perkins, Garret, Belson, Grove, Pope, Lacee and others too numerous to mention. " (JP NOTE: Many of these names are later found to intermarry with the Copelands. They were also later mentioned as the more prominent families of the area in the same book) JP NOTE: The Copeland Manuscript supplied by Frank Luckett listed this gentleman as John Copeland, however, other sources suggest his name was Nicholas. I have listed him as John Nicholas thinking that is perhaps his full name and he was called Nicholas throughout his life to avoid confusion with his father. In the unnamed document also provided to me by Frank Luckett in January 1977 has the following: From "The William and Mary College Quarterly", Vol. 7, page 212: " After the restoration of King Charles II in 1660, the Quakers had a strong following -especially in the upper Parish (Virginia). the able lawyer and preacher, Thomas Story of Philadelphia, came in 1699 and in 1705 and held many open and comfortable meetings in this and other parts of Virginia. And a Chuckatuck, he met his ancient friend, Elizabeth Webb of Gloucestershire, England, and John Copeland, who at his request, showed him his mutilated ear, he being one of the first of those who had their right ear cut by the Presbyterian, or Independents of New England." (JP-Note-the Copeland Manuscript says this was John the son of Joseph and Mary Woodley) "John Copeland, age 19" is listed as one of the 218 "passengers for Virginia 1635 in New England and Historical and Genealogical Record, Vol. 5," and may be the "John, a Quaker who came to Plymouth Colony, Massachusetts on the 'Speedwell' in 1656 and was whipped and driven from the Colony on account of his religion". These records fit so near completely that it is believed that Joseph Copeland, grandson of Thomas Taberer, was also the grandson of John Copeland. And that this John, who was beaten and run out of Plymouth Colony about 1656, is the same as Jo, who took passage for Virginia in 1635- and the same as John, who showed his mutilated ear to Thomas Story in 1699 or 1705 at the home of his cousin Elizabeth Copeland Webb of Gloucestershire, England . . . and another beneficiary under the Will of Thomas Taberer in Chuckatuck, Virginia, at which time John was about 78 years old. (JP Note: various records agree that it was John, Sr, who departed on the Assurance for Virginia stayed in Isle of Wight, and was deceased in 1682. Thus making it impossible for him to be at either meeting. I believe that it is more likely the person that was the Speedwell passenger or at the meeting was either this John, Jr., the before mentioned son of Joseph or an entirely different John Copeland.) He was married to Sarah Ratcliff about 1638 in Isle of Wight Co., VA. He left England 1635 on the ship "Assurance" along with 217 other passengers. He settled at Chuckatuck in Isle of Wight Co., Va. He was married to Sarah RATLIFFE about 1639 in Isle of Wight Co., Va. Sarah RATLIFFE was born about 1616. She was born about 1625 in Isle of Wight Co., Va. She died in 1687 in Isle of Wight Co., Va. "He was married at the age of thirty-two years for the first time by the Reverend Mr. Peter Bulkeley, Rector at Odell, Bedfordshire on 7 Apr 1616 to Frances Paxton. Preliminary search has not disclosed her parentage, or any explanation for the wedding in Bedfordshire...A Paxton family owned a manor house at Barton Hartshorne five miles north of Marsh Gibbon." * BIRTH: 26 Jul 1584, Westburymanor, Marshgibbon, Buckingham, England * CHRISTENING: 26 Jul 1584, Marsh Gibbon, Buckinghamshire, England * EMIGRATION: ABT 1639, Boston, Suffolk, MA * DEATH: 6 Oct 1655, Southampton, Suffolk, Long Island, NY * BURIAL: Southampton, Suffolk, Long Island, NY. 1. Edward Howell.4,8,64,66,243 Born on 22 Jul 1584 in Westbury Manor, Marsh Gibbon, Buckinghamshire, England. Edward died in Southampton, Suffolk County, Long Island, New York bef 6 Oct 1655; he was 71. Buried in Old South End Burying Ground, Southampton, Long Island, Long Island, New York. Edward was baptized in Marsh Gibbon, Buckinghamshire, England on 22 Jul 1584. Edward Howell was the son of Henry Howell and the grandson of William Howell, whose Manor of Westbury at Marsh Gibbon was a fine stone structure of the 16th century, two stories high and called a double house. Edward inherited this manor upon the death of his father in 1625. Thus, he was a part of the landed gentry and his family had a coat of arms. Some scholars trace the Howell family back many generations to the 900s in Wales. After his father's death, Edward, who was living at Stewelltorpe in York County at the time, sold his large estate in Buckinghamshire, the Manor of Westbury, which had been purchased by his grandfather in 1536 during the reign of King Henry VIII. On June 8, 1639, he sold the manor to Richard Francis of Marsh Gibbon for 1,600 pounds. Later that same year, at the age of 55, he set out with his family for the "new world". When Edward and his family reached Boston in late 1639, it was sparsely populated. The first record we have of Edward Howell in the United States is the list of freemen of Boston, published on March 13, 1640. Edward Howell received from King Charles I of England a grant of 500 acres at Lynn, Massachusetts, and he moved there from Boston. But he did not stay long at Lynn. He had heard of more fertile land to the south on Long Island. On April 17, 1640, Edward Howell was one of three proprietors who obtained authorization to occupy eight miles square in any part of Long Island which was part of the Connecticut Colony. Being an owner of a sloop which from time to time carried dissatisfied colonists south to Long Island, Edward Howell decided to make the move with his family. In June or July, the Howells landed at Southampton, Long Island, where they were to stay. Edward Howell is considered one of Southampton's founders, and he owned a large estate there. Being a natural leader, he served on the governor's council of Connecticut from 1647 to 1653 and helped compile the rules and regulations for the fast growing colony at Southampton. Some of these rules were harsh by today's standards. For example, for lying a person had to pay a fine of five shillings and sit in the stocks for five hours; for drunkenness the fine was 10 shillings for the first offense, 20 for the second, and 30 for the third. In 1647, Edward Howell was selected to serve as a member of the legislature at Hartford, Connecticut, and he held this position until his death. Long Island did not come under the jurisdiction of New York until 1664 when Charles II granted territories to his brother James, Duke of York, hence the name New York. "He disposed of his considerable estates in Bucks county in 1639, among which was the manor of Westbury in Marsh Gibbon, purchased by his grandfather, William Howell, in 1536, and came to Boston, where he was made freeman, March 1640, removed to Lynn, then about 1640 was one of the leaders of a compact to settle Long Island." 64

Further research as shown in "Genealogies of Long Island Families - From The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record", Volume I, Albertson - Polhemius, Selected and Introduced by Henry B. Hoff, Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc., Baltimore, 1987, pp. 489-492, places the date of the sale of the manor of Westbury and Edward's departure to America as 1638 rather than 1639. 8,33,66  Edward died before October 6, 1655, as court records dated 6 October 1655, granted Eleanore Howell all his goods. In March 1657, the town allowed her 20 shillings because her house was burned to the ground by the Indians. Long ago, in early colonial times, Water Mill was the first and only community on the eastern tip of Long Island that could boast of a mill driven by water and not by wind. Until it was put into operation by a wealthy land owner, our Edward Howell, four years after the "Undertakers" came to the island in 1640, all mills in the colony were wind driven because of the scarcity of swift flowing streams. Howell came in 1640 to the tiny settlement, called "Mecox," a name taken from the Shinnecock Indians for "flat or plain country." He announced he would build a mill for the grinding of grain, rye and wheat, into flour. The colonists expected him to construct a "wind mill" but he had a different idea. He made his choice of land so that it included a lively stream which emptied into Mecox Bay. There, as settlers watched, Howell built his mill upon the creek and built it so durable that 327 years later, it is still standing in the serene little town of Water Mill. Now, the ancient mill, but a few miles from the Old South End Burying Ground where the original miller is buried, is owned by a woman's organization of the village. For many generations the mill supplied flour for the townspeople of Water Mill and adjoining communities. The mill's large grinding stones and the deed were given to Howell by the town. In return, the miller signed an agreement to supply such necessities of the town as grinding of grain grown anywhere in the Water Mill area and delivered to the mill. That Howell lived up to his agreement faithfully is duty recorded in the town records. The name Water Mill is the lasting memorial to the pioneer miller who built the first grist mill run by water. Two of the grinding stones are in the park where there is a wind mill and the other two are at the mill. 8

On 7 Apr 1616 when Edward was 31, he first married Frances Paxton8,64,66,243, in Odell, Bedfordshire, England.8,66 They were wed by the Reverend Peter Bulkeley, Rector. Born in 1584 in Bedfordshire, England. Frances died in Marsh Gibbon, Buckinghamshire, England on 2 Feb 1630; she was 46. Buried on 2 Jul 1630 in Marsh Gibbon. Buckinghamshire, England. They had the following children:

The name Howell is definitely of Welsh origin, but since Edward Howell's father and grandfather's wills are proved in England we have no proof that this family came from Wales. The Howells were a family holding large tracts of land in England. The first one we know much about is Edward, who inherited these lands from his father, as was, and I believe still is, the custom, that the oldest son is heir. The lands were in Buckinghamshire, and a part of the old house still stands. At the time Edward came to America, he sold most of his holdings and set sail with others who wanted more religious freedom. The landed in Boston, Massachusetts in 1639, then moved on to Lynn where Edward had a grant of 500 acres of land. He was made a "Free Man" in March 1640. The same problem again arose as to religious liberty, and they looked for another place to which they could move. About 1636 by favor of King Charles the 1st, William Alexander, Earl of Sterling, became the owner of Long Island. The next year, he gave orders to his agent, James Farrett, to dispose of the lands. Edward Howell, with a small group of men, purchased a tract of land on Long Island from the agent James Farrett. They decided to make a settlement on the land purchased, but, before all arrangements were completed, eleven more families joined the first nine. These people were called "the Undertakers" and in the first group was Edward Howell, who was the heaviest contributor, Edmond Farrington, Edmond Needham, Thomas Sayre, Job Sayre, Goerge Welbe, Henry Walton, Josiah Stanborough and Daniel Howe, Captain of the vessel. The next group of eleven men were Allen Breed, John Cooper, Thomas Halsey, John Farrington, William Harker, Philip Kirtland, Thomas Newell, Richard Odell, Thomas Terry, Nathaniel Kirtland and Thomas Farrington, making in all twenty men and their wives and children. They landed on the North Sea at a place called "Conscience Point" (sic). Because of the settlement on Long Island, New York State has engraved the Howell Coat of Arms on the Western Staircase of the New York Capitol Building at Albany. These men decided before leaving Lynn, that there "shall a church be gathered and constituted according to the minde of Christ, that anything we do may tende to the good and welfare of the place at the feete of Christ and His Church." The next thing they did was to obtain a deed from Farrett to "sitt down upon Long Island - there to possess, improve and enjoy eight miles square of land to them and their heyers forever, and they are to take their choice to sitt down upon as best lyketh them and also that they and their associates shall enjoy as full and free liberty in all matters that do or may concern them or conduct to the good and comfort of them and theirs both in church order or civil government." The deed is dated April 17, 1640. Governor Winthrop says, "He thinks four bushels of the best Indian corne" then growing shall be paid in rent to the Earl of Sterling. That Edward Howell must have been a man of good family in the land of his birth, would appear from the fact that we find record of his using arms to which he was entitled, which same armorial blazon can yet be seen carved (1968) upon the old grave stones in the South End and North End burying grounds. They appear on the stone of Matthew in the Old South End, and they were on the front of Ma. John's but deterioration has obliterated them. In the North End they appear on John, 3rd and Capt. Charles' graves. The Coat of Arms used by Edward Howell is described "Gules, Three Towers, triple towered, Argent." The Motto - "Tenax Propositi." Edward Howell was a Governor's Assistant of the Connecticut Colony 1647 - 1653, a magistrate and member of the Legislature until his death.

Came to America in 1638, taking up a grant of land of 100 acres at Deep Creek, near Portsmouth, VA. It is probable that he was a brother to Robert and John IVES of Accomack Co. VA. And there are some interesting associations that make it possible that he was brother of William IVES of New Haven, CT. (Consider: the land grant to Timothy was recorded in New York State; the military service record of William was recorded in Virginia.)

2305. Ruth was born in 1590.

Notes for Lawrence Copeland:
The Lancashire Branch (of the Copelands) has been traced back to 1500. One section living in Dolphin Leigh had very hard luck. The head of this branch, Lawrence Copeland was a solid Roundhead, and for his religious faith he appears to have died. His estates were sequestered by the Crown for recusancy. The eldest son Robert, tried to obtain these estates; but, the result.... "Claim allowed with arrears from the fathers death on fuller proof of the death and on the sons taking the Oath of Adjudication" Robert does not appear to have done this and it is believed he and his brother, Lawrence, sailed to America. The other two sons, John and Thomas, are believed to have joined their relatives in Staffordshire. It is generally believed that Lawrence is the one who settled in Braintree, Mass. in 1630; and that John came to Virginia in 1635. Note: Lawrence is the head of a large family of Copelands in New England, moving westward, but there is no evidence that - had any children. Thomas went to Barbados and some of his sisters went to Virginia as spelled out in his will. ROUNDHEADS the name given to the supporters of the parliamentary cause during the English civil war. Many Puritans, scorning gentlemen's fashions of the 17th century, wore their hair closely cropped. In 1641 bewigged or long-haired royalists insulted their Puritan opponents in Parliament by calling them Roundheads. The term was later applied to all supporters of the parliamentary rebellion, even though the leader of the Roundheads, Oliver Cromwell, wore his hair long. Note that the dates don't agree, did John go to Virginia before his father was killed? Children of LAWRENCE SR and RUTH are: 2. i. JOHN2 COPELAND, b. February 24, 1611/12, Dolphin Leigh, Dolphinhone, York County, England; d. 1682, Isle of Wight County, VA. ii. LAWRENCE COPELAND JR, b. Bet. 1599 - 1612. Matheson The "emigrant" Lawrence Copeland came to Boston and settled in Braintree, Mass. sometime in the 1630's. He married late in life. He probably like most of the Massachusetts settlers, emigrated from the east coast of England. There is quite a clan of Copelands in the vicinity of Newcastle, England and have been for a very long time. The name crops up in the 13th century and probably earlier, then spelled Coupland and Couplande. John and William seem to be favorite names. Their crest is a 'Swan with a broken wing.' Among the Quincy inscriptions is the following: "In memory of Mr. Lawrence Copeland, who died Dec. 30, 1699 with 100 years of age" settled in Braintree (Braintree), MA in 1637. Notes for Abraham Peirsey:
Abraham PEIRSEY/PIERSEY arrived at Jamestowne aboard the ship "Susan", the first Magazine Ship sent to the Colony in 1616 from England. His wife, Elizabeth DRAPER and their two daughters, Elizabeth and Mary, arrived on the "Southampton" in 1616. He returned to England on the "Susan" and returned to Jamestowne aboard the "George", the second magazine ship. Abraham Peirsey was a Virginia Company stockholder. He made a trading visit to Newfoundland in 1619 on the "George" to exchange tobacco for fish. Governor Sir George Yeardley sold his plantation known as Flowerdieu Hundred, which was on the south side of the James River just upstream from James City, to Abraham Peirsey in 1624. Peirsey was a merchant-planter who, after Yeardley, ranked as the second wealthiest man in Virginia. A census of the colony taken in 1625 provides some rare details about Flowerdieu Hundred at that time. A total of 57 people lived on the plantation, including 29 servants and 7 Negroes belonging to Peirsey. In August 1619 the first African slaves are brought to Virginia by Captain Jope in a Dutch ship. Governor Yeardley and a merchant, Abraham PEIRSEY, exchange twenty of them for supplies. These Africans become indentured servants like the white indentured servants who traded passage for servitude. They were found to be quite profitable in the cultivation of tobacco which was the staple crop at that time. The other residents included six married men, their families and servants, three single men, and a minister. There were twelve dwelling houses on the plantation as well as three storehouses, four tobacco houses, and the first windmill erected in the country. Ample supplies of food were on hand in the form of cattle, hogs, corn, peas, and quantities of fish. A continued concern over defense was reflected in the cannon, armour, gunpowder, and swords listed. Floweredieu Hundred became a palisaded settlement which may account for there being only six deaths during the Indian uprising in 1622. In 1624, Peirsey owned Windmill Point at Peirseys Hundred which included twelve dwellings, three storehouses, four tobacco houses and the first windmill constructed in America. (Reconstruction completed in 1978 to commemorate the original mill erected in 1621 by the original owner, Sir George Yeardley.) Abraham Peirsey was appointed to the Commission on 24 Oct 1623 along with John Pory, John Harvey, John Jefferson and Samuel Mathews to "look into the state of Virginia." He was appointed to the Council 1624 and was a member of the House of Burgesses in 1625. The plantation went to his second wife, Frances Greville, upon his death in 1627/1628. She later married Samuel Mathews and died in 1633. At her death the property was awarded to his daughter Mary Peirsey Hill. In the five years that passed after Abraham's death the estate was altered to where Mary was destitute. As one of Mary's first act upon acquiring Peirsey Hundred she renamed it to the original Flowerdieu Hundred. Today, the plantation is held by the Flowerdew Hundred Foundation. The brass pipe tamper, at right, was uncovered during archaeological studies.
